Torrance Lions Offer Scholarship to Teacher Learning to Aid Blind

The board of directors of the Torrance Lions Club has voted to award a $200 scholarship to a teacher of the Torrance Unified School District to secure a credential to teach the visually handicapped. The only courses offered to meet the requirements are at San Francisco State College and they are offered during the summer session. All school districts who have classes for the blind or partially sighted have found that there are not enough trained teachers to teach all of the classes needed. Under the terms of the scholarship, the teacher must be acceptable for employment by the Torrance Unified School District and must return to Torrance to teach one of the three classes for the visually handicapped which are located in the Perry Elementary School.

Blind and sight conservation work is one of the major projects of most Loins Clubs. The Torrance Lions Club in the past eight weeks in addition to the $200 scholarship award, has paid a $294 hospital bill for a child who had extensive eye surgery and has approved the payment for eye examinations and the fitting of glasses for 10 pupils. Earlier in the year, the club purchased a Braille writer for a Torrance child and completed eye examinations and fitted glasses for almost 50 Torrance children.

President Pete Radisich announced that the Blind and Sight Conservation Committee responsible for recommending eye examinations to the board was composed of Dr. Warren W. Hamilton, chairman, Dr. John Nussall and Lyle Albro. He further stated that both the North Torrance and the South Torrance Lions Clubs have a program to help the visually handicapped in Torrance.
